Product Page Intro	Introducing Olive Oil, Refined Organic - We provide an extensive selection of olive oils, so make sure to explore our range and inform us of your preferences. For generations, people from the Mediterranean have been using it directly on their skin to provide the necessary moisture for their sun-kissed skin. It serves as an excellent ingredient in skincare formulations or can be used on its own. However, when applied solo, it may leave the skin slightly oily, so we suggest incorporating it into skincare blends. As well as its rich fatty acid composition, olive oil contains three key antioxidants that contribute to the maintenance of skin and hair health, leaving them smooth and strong. Whether you seek transformation through skincare or haircare, request a quotation or order a sample, and embrace the essence of nature within your formulations!
Product Status	Pure & Natural.
